

In March 15 we brought Leadership expert John Spence to New Zealand. Our third time and our first to Christchurch. I wanted to make this a world class event and to ensure that we did not take our Company focus off our Core Business. Working with Glenda and her team was easy. From our initial introduction through to execution she worked with me to shape the event, introduced new ways and added to our concept. I was conscious that I wanted to be one of those clients that let her get on with what she is good at without interfering by insisting on using suppliers we currently use. I wanted to make sure it was a standalone successful event.

It exceeded our expectations in planning, conduct and the event itself on stage at the Isaac Theatre Royal really added to the experience. It represented our brand professionally and behind the scenes the team at Harding Consultants did their craft. I have asked her to plan our annual conference in 2016 and will involve her in future events here in Christchurch and Auckland. That says it all really.
